KEY POINTS OF THE ARMY VISION:

DEPLOY, FIGHT, AND WIN
The Army will remain expeditionary. All Army units will be trained and proficient in their ability to deploy, whether it is a strategic deployment from the United States or an operational deployment within a theater.

JOINT
The Army will train and fight as a member of the Joint and Multinational Team. Our doctrine, tactics, and equipment must be complementary to and interoperable with our sister services, allies, and partners.

MULTI-DOMAIN
The Army must be able to fight not only in the land, sea, and air using combined arms, but also in all domains, including cyber, space, and the electromagnetic spectrum.

HIGH INTENSITY CONFLICT
The Army must be ready to conduct major operations and campaigns involving large-scale combat with Division and Corps-level maneuvers against near-peer competitors.

DETER
The Army will maintain its conventional deterrence capability with a combination of combat-credible forward forces, robust alliances, and a demonstrated ability to reinforce a region rapidly.

IRREGULAR WARFARE
The Army will continue to conduct irregular warfare, whether it is counterterrorism, counterinsurgency, or advise and assist operations, and we must train, exercise, and assess these skills to sustain our competence.

MODERNIZATION
The Army must build the next generation of combat vehicles, aerial platforms, and weapons systems, and start fielding them by 2028. These systems must be more agile, lethal, resilient, and sustainable on the future battlefield while under constant surveillance and attack. Our systems must also be upgradeable and incorporate robotics, artificial intelligence, and other technologies as they mature.

LEADERSHIP
The Army will prioritize development and promotion of smart, thoughtful, and innovative leaders of character who are comfortable with complexity and capable of operating from the tactical to strategic level.
INTRODUCTION
The Army Strategy articulates how the Total Army achieves its objectives defined by the Army Vision and fulfills its Title 10 duties.

THE ARMY MISSION:
To deploy, fight, and win our Nation’s wars by providing ready, prompt, and sustained land dominance by Army forces across the full spectrum of conflict as part of the Joint Force.

STRATEGIC ENVIRONMENT
Today, political, economic, social, and technological changes are creating challenges and opportunities for maintaining the Army’s land power dominance.

- GREAT POWER COMPETITORS
  Great power competitors have implemented modernization programs to offset our conventional superiority, and the challenges they present are increasingly trans-regional, multi-domain, and multi-functional.

- REGIONAL STATE ADVERSARIES
  Regional state adversaries present significant challenges as they seek nuclear and conventional weapons to gain regional influence and ensure regime survival.

- OTHER THREATS
  Terrorists, trans-national criminal organizations, cyber hackers, and other malicious non-state actors have transformed global affairs with increased capabilities of mass disruption.

- ECONOMIC UNCERTAINTY
  While current budgets provide the Army with the resources we need, fiscal uncertainty and decreased buying power will likely be a future reality, threatening our ability to achieve the Army Vision.

- DYNAMIC INTERNATIONAL OPERATING ENVIRONMENT
  Global competitors are now building alternative economic and security institutions to expand their spheres of influence, making international institutions an area of competition.

STRATEGIC APPROACH
The Army Strategy establishes four lines of effort with specific objectives to chart a path of irreversible momentum towards 2028.

CONCLUSION
The Total Army will build readiness, modernize concepts and capabilities, reform processes, and strengthen our alliances and partnerships to ensure land power dominance on any battlefield, against any threat, at any time.

The Army Vision
The Army of 2028 will be ready to deploy, fight and win decisively against any adversary, anytime and anywhere, in a joint, multi-domain, high-intensity conflict, while simultaneously deterring others and maintaining its ability to conduct irregular warfare. The Army will do this through the employment of modern manned and unmanned ground combat vehicles, aircraft, sustainment systems, and weapons, coupled with robust combined arms formations and tactics based on a modern warfighting doctrine, and centered on exceptional Leaders and Soldiers of unmatched lethality.
